I am writing to voice my displeasure with the settlement with Microsoft. The resolution was no more than a slap on the wrist. As Judge Sporkin said ``simply telling a defendant to go forth and sin no more does little or nothing to address the unfair advantage it has already gained." This will not be beneficial for the consumer or the economy. Any undergrad level economics class will teach that a monopoly is never good for the consumer or the economy. Look at what happened with telecomm.
